Report: Paris and London

On arriving there, they gathered the church together and reported all that God had done through them and how he had opened the door of faith to the Gentiles . . .

Acts 14:27

On the evening of August 18, Doug Blough, the Director of the Paris Mission Team, and I departed on the "red-eye special" that flies from Boston to Paris. We arrived the next morning, tired but anxious to begin our task. During our one week stay in Paris we spent considerable time with Glen Dupont, the American missionary who serves the Deodat congregation in northern Paris, trying to learn about French culture and the history of the French-speaking work in Europe. (The French-speaking work includes France, as well as parts of Belgium and Switzerland.) We also spent a day in Nantes, France with Bobby Grigg and Buddy Jones, the missionaries at this very respected congregation that is located some 250 miles west Paris. The support from these men in France and the information gathered during this initial trip were quite encouraging. The missionaries in the French-speaking work in Europe are a courageous group of men who have as their hearts' desire to see the French speaking area of Europe won for Christ. All nine of the congregations in France are endowed with a tremendous spirit of unity. Consequently, we assured the brethren that we wanted to learn as much as possible from them as this was a new challenge to us and also that we wished to become a harmonious part of the French-speaking work.

Though the visits to the Louvre, the Eiffel Tower, the Arch of Triumph, Notre Dame, and the American Embassy were exciting, the walks down the streets of Paris and our strolls through the Latin Quarter convinced us all the more of the need to build a church that would not only help to reach the 12,000,000 lost souls of Paris, working side by side with the other two churches there, but to initiate a work on the campuses of the University of Paris that is located on thirteen different campuses with 260,000 students! Indeed with the reception we received by the brethren and the Parisians in general, we believe God has opened the door for us to begin a church in Paris in June 1984.

After a week in Paris, we crossed the English Channel and proceeded to London to visit and encourage the church that began just seven short weeks ago. Jim and Doug are in the midst of building a most excellent work. Their wives and the rest of the team are also striving in great ways for the Lord. Already their attendance has gone from 17 on the initial Sunday of July 4, to 41 this past week! Four already have been baptized into Christ--one of them, Doug Jacoby's boss, is a University Administrator for London University. After addressing the church on Wednesday evening and participating in the fellowship, I became all the more convinced of God opening the door of faith in this great city as well.

After this brief two-day visit, Doug and I flew back to Boston only to be received by more good news. Twenty-eight people were baptized into Christ during the "summer slump" month of August at the Lexington congregation. This brought the number of people baptized during the first eight months of 1982 to 195. Indeed, the door of faith is wide open right here at home in Boston.

We look forward to Doug and Jim speaking to us for our first World Missions Seminar on October 7-9. Pray for their work, the preparation of the Paris team, and our own work for the Lord here in Boston.

Kip
